Technical training was again offered at Vocational Technical and Adult School to the students of St. Catherine's.

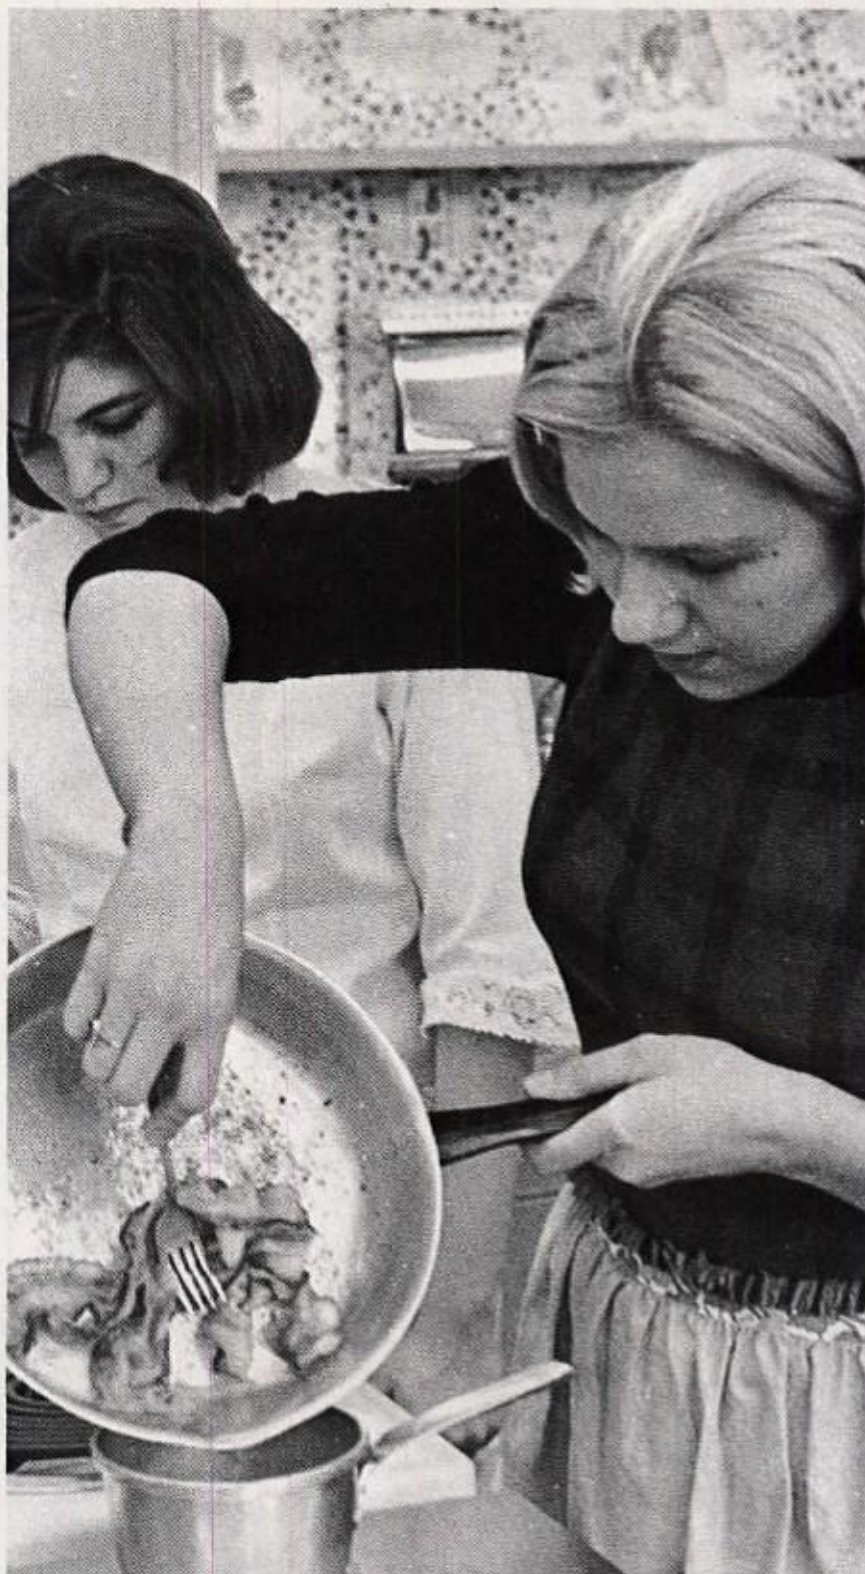

The curriculum offered was the following: for boys—auto mechanics, drafting, woodworking, machine shop, re-upholstery and shop mathematics; for girls—household arts and foods. Business courses such as business correspondence, Typing I and II, business arithmetic, machine calculation, and bookkeeping were open to both boys and girls.

Among the one-hundred-twenty students attending Vocational School, fifty-two were Juniors and Sixty-eight were Seniors. Forty-five students participated in industrial courses, twenty in home economics and fifty-five in business courses.

The shop courses enabled the boys to enter the working forces after graduating. The home economics courses prepared the girls to become good homemakers in the future. Students who took the business courses were given the opportunity to increase their knowledge of the business world.

With these courses and the background they received at St. Catherine's, these students are appropriately able to step out into the business world.

The Social Studies Department had a new arrival this year—the economics class. Students who took this course were enthusiastic about its benefits. It gave them a deeper understanding of money and labor in this country.

On April 21 and 22, the American Government classes saw the movie adaptation of the Pulitzer prize winning novel "The Making of a President 1960" by Theodore H. White. They had previously read this best-seller in conjunction with the course.

Two contests were held last spring. Juniors took part in the 39th Annual

High School Contest on the United Nations Essay Contest in their senior year. A $300 scholarship and a chance to participate in the state contest enticed seniors into entering the Elks contest on the Constitution held in the spring. Both of these contests required intense study by the participants.

Geography, world history, and American history were also offered. These classes examined the past by means of their textbooks and with the aid of the weekly newspaper, the American Observer, discussed current problems.

"Know-How" As Applicable to the Future

After acquiring such skills as shorthand and typing received in the business education program at St. Catherine's, students were ready to face the competitive world of business awaiting them.

A complete set of Gregg records, supplemented by other kinds, and three electric typewriters facilitated learning to type. Rewards included higher grades in other subjects since teachers prefer typewritten assignments.

Shorthand is offered with typing and since last year the new Diamond Jubilee series of Greg shorthand was taught. For those interested in a course in machine shorthand the department obtained three stenotypes—devices used by court reporters to record testimonies of witnesses. Shorthand was a valuable aid in classes where speedy note-taking was essential to maintain good marks.

A new machine devoted to the task of saving mental effort is the "Tenkeymatic," a device that adds and subtracts. Perhaps the only problem was the mental effort involved in learning to operate the "Tenkey-matic."

For students who plan on entering the business field in earnest, courses were taken at Vocational School which offers an intense commercial course including machine calculation, bookkeeping, business English, and business math.

"INSTANT-IZED" Linda Mohrbacher and Carol Patzman take dictation on the steno-type machine, the newest innovation in St. Catherine's Business Education Department.

Intricacies from Far Away Places

With Chinese being added to the curriculum next year, the number of foreign languages offered at St. Catherine's will total six. For this year, however, French, Spanish, Russian, German and Latin satisfied the needs of most of the students.

Using the language labs and their facilities aided students in obtaining authentic accents and also helped them to gain a clearer understanding of and a closer relationship with the people who speak these languages as their native tongues. As colleges become more and more insistent on at least one year of a foreign language as an entrance requirement, more students than ever make good use of the three well-equipped labs in obtaining a good speaking, reading, and writing knowledge of the language of their choice. The visual aids, used with good results, proved themselves practical and made language classes livelier acquiring fluency in a different tongue was an interesting and valuable experience throughout the year.

Observation and Speculation—World Changes

To advance St. Catherinites' knowledge in the field of Science this year, the four basic sciences—physics, chemistry, biology, and general science—were offered along with a new science known as "Senior Science" which was offered to juniors and seniors who did not wish to take chemistry or physics.

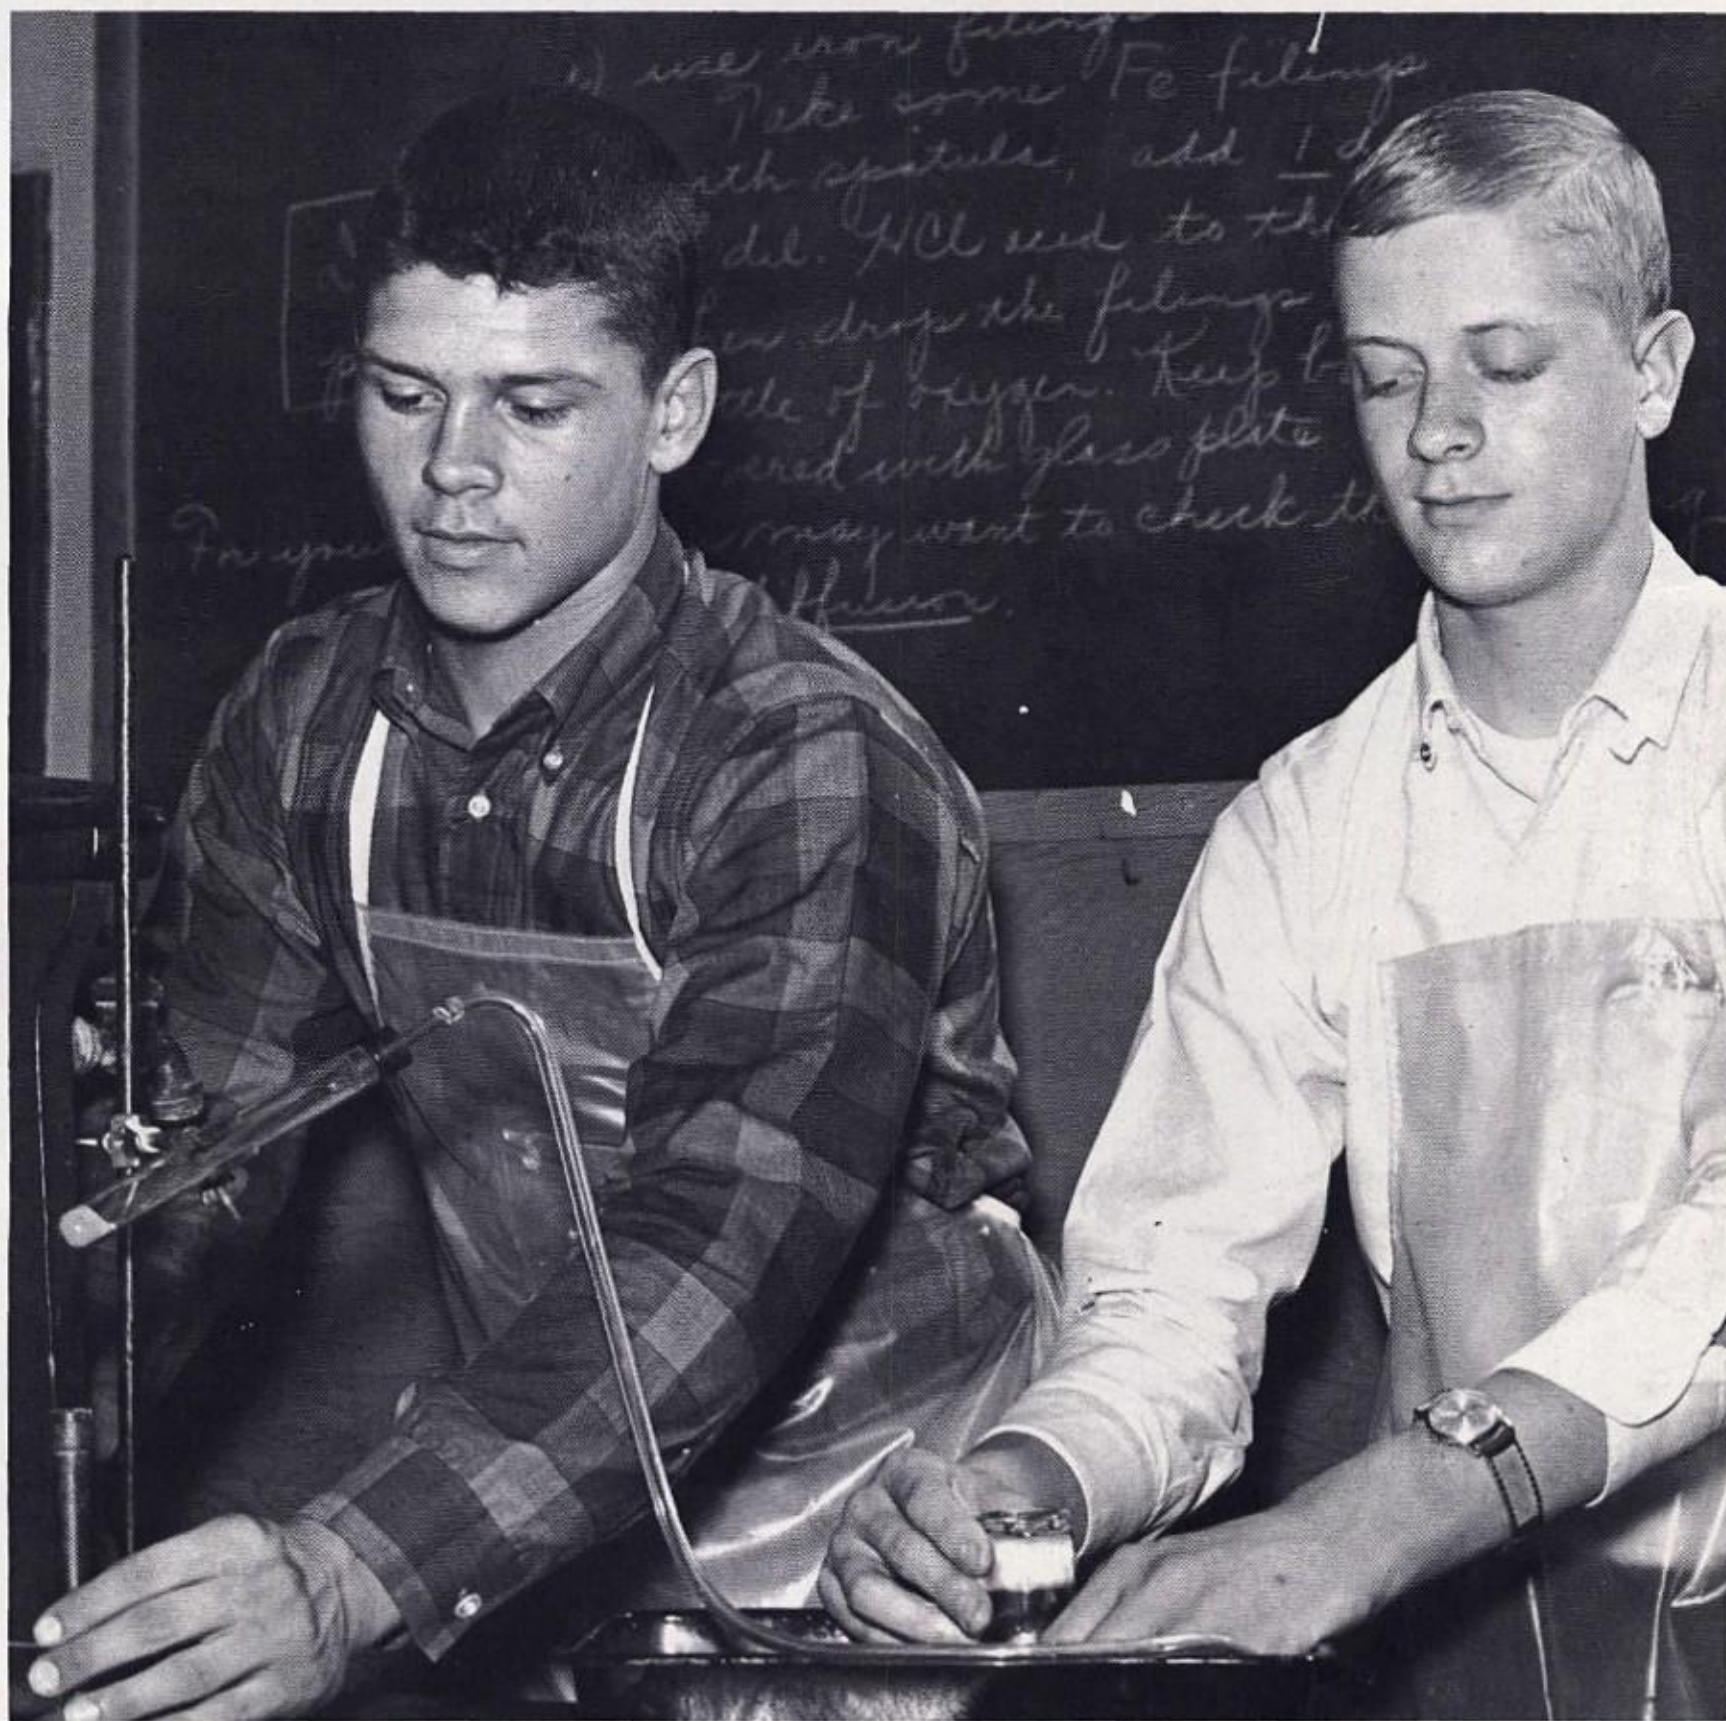

A new method of teaching chemistry was introduced on a trial basis at St. Catherine's. The students took chemistry for two periods a day for a semester and the other half of the year was spent in studying English. There were, besides this new type of course, the regular chemistry classes and an advanced class and an advanced class for those who had a higher learning ability.

In biology, students learned the various internal structures of worms, crayfish, grasshoppers, frogs and fish by dissection. Additions in equipment were seven new microscopes, a laboratory oven and a refrigerator.

Welcomed in physics classes was the addition of six power sources, six transistor multi-meters, which measure sound, wave lengths, and voltage, a tape recorder and a signal generator.

Today's emphasis on science will make the knowledge obtained in the science courses well worth the gaining.

HOME BREW In their chemistry class Jim Kristan and Rich Koenings collect oxygen by means of a generator to verify the various properties of oxygen.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING In Speech, Kay Krause poses in a coat she ended up buying after she started out to purchase a button for her old coat.

English, a required but profitable subject, gave to its students a better understanding of the structure and significance of the English language.

Each year in every department changes are made and new equipment is added. This last year was no exception: in Freshman and Sophomore English classes, sets of composition books were used. These books helped the students compose better themes; to facilitate learning in the advanced English classes, revised editions of the Scott Foresman Literature Series were introduced.

Senior English classes had another Team—teaching course added. For this class an overhead projector was installed in the cafeteria classroom where the class met daily.

WRITING ON THE WALL Sister Marie Therese makes good use of the handy overhead projector during a session of the English team-teaching new to the cafeteria.

Figures, Factors, Fractions = Frustration

WHAT ARE THE CHANCES? Math Students Carol Toter, Dan Kovara, and Bob Baggott attempt to see how "probable" the Law of Probability is.

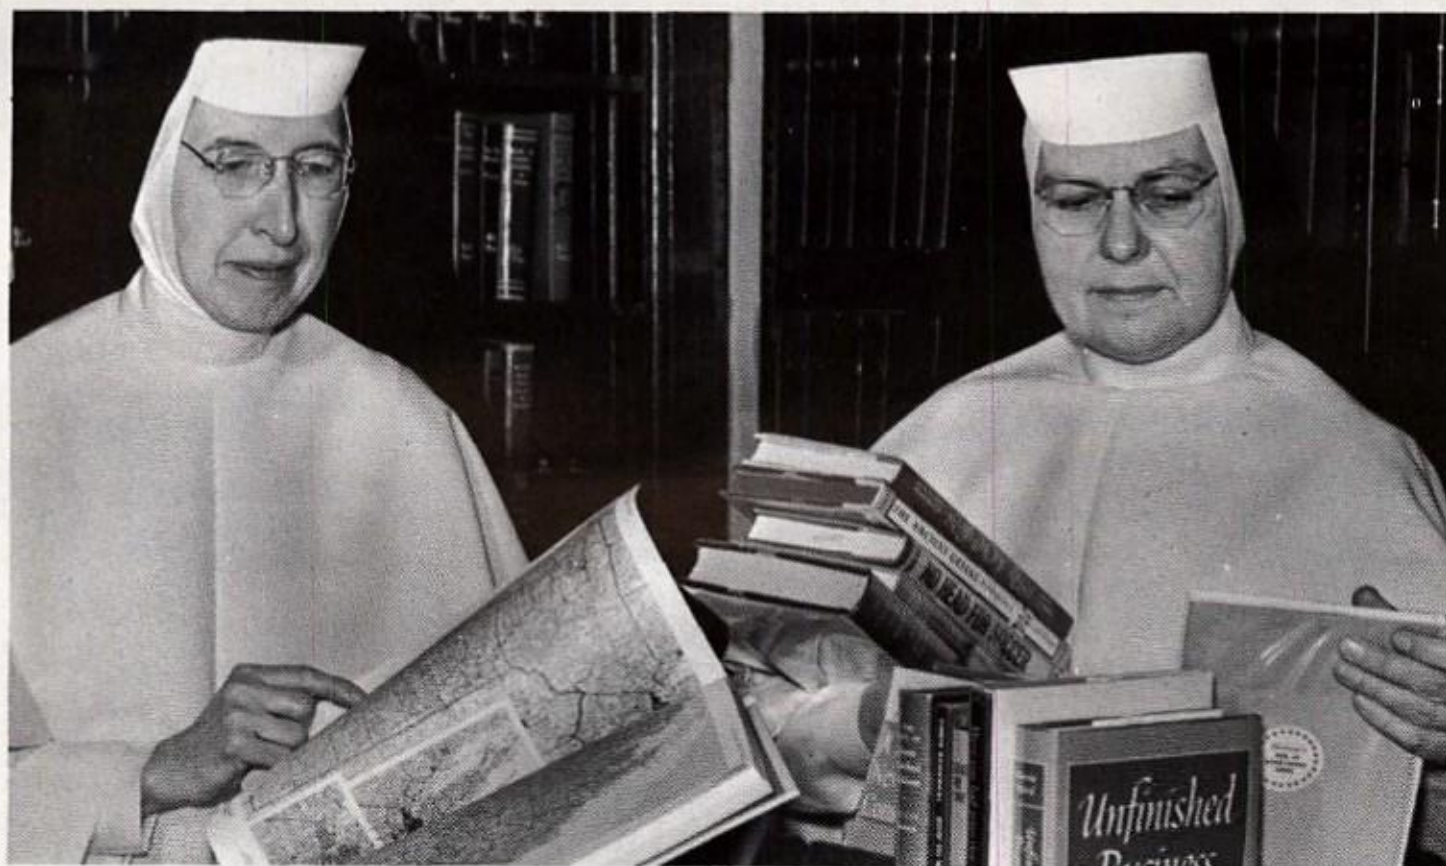

If new methods plus well-trained faculty equal well-rounded math students, St. Catherine's has proved another tried-and-true axiom.

Most SCHS scholars met their mathematical challenge in the form of basic college-prep courses: algebra, geometry, and trig. To augment these, a new junior-senior course was inaugurated this year to acquaint those not bound for college with some of the important principles and topics of modern math. Numeration systems other than base ten were studied along with application of probability and elementary statistics.

Fundamentals of mathematics have always been a must—from second grade "Numbers" to five syllable senior subjects like trigonometry and probability. Here at St. Catherine's, from the time freshmen struggle through the new language of algebra up to senior math, every effort is made to make the mathematical curriculum a well-rounded one—applicable to each student's individual needs and capabilities.

Recognizing that the repeatedly-mentioned need for math and science is more than trite educational propaganda, St. Catherine's offers unlimited opportunities in the field of mathematics.

Fighting the dreaded disease of hypokenesia (soft flabby flesh around the middle), St. Catherinites were faithful in their gym class attendance. Morning and afternoon the gyms resounded with a conglomeration of bouncing ball, whistles blowing, buzzers buzzing, and above it all, the shouts of active participants.

For the first few months of the school year students wondered if they would survive the vigorous grind of push-ups, running, and tumbling. They soon realized they'd have to. Girls acquired poise and posture from learning the control of the muscles, which are of vital importance to their physical well-being and also to their attractiveness. The boys participated in a fitness program to develop their physical frame.

In the winter basketball was the main program for both boys and girls. The girls took up square dancing, softball, volleyball, badminton, ping pong and shuffleboard in the spring. Baseball was on the agenda for the boys.

All in all students had an enjoyable time during this break in the monotony of study. Physical exercise was a pleasant relief from the routine mental work and solitary study.

TOPS Evidently Sophomore students of Mrs. Rasmussen's gym class Nicky Nielson, Judy Twombly, Joyce DeMark, Julie Thomas, Regina Mauer and Joanne Wagner are members in good standing of "Take Off Pounds Sensibly".

Abstract Moods and Tangible Perspectives

"DIMENSIONS IN DESIGN" Mr. David Drewek aids Kris Tribys and Karen Langendorf in modeling three dimensional forms.

Imagination plays a big part in art, and in St. Catherine's art courses, huge quantities of it were used, especially in creating toothpick sculptures demonstrating various moods.

Experiments in media further stimulated the imagination. Efforts in foam glass, wood sculpture, glass etching, leather carving, stitchery in tapestries and hooking rugs, introduced the student to the various arts and crafts.

The addition of two new pattern wheels and of various electrical tools used in wood carving made production easier.

A chance is given to "lay students" to appraise work by their classmates when articles produced in class are exhibited at Wustum Museum in late May and early June.

DUTY IN DUPLICATE Tom Navratil and Jeff Verhaeghe share a mirror in their make-up preparation for The Miracle Worker.

AND THEN THE DAWN Helen Keller (Diane Powell), with her teacher, Annie Sullivan (Pat Parsonese), lives her last moments in a world of words without understanding.

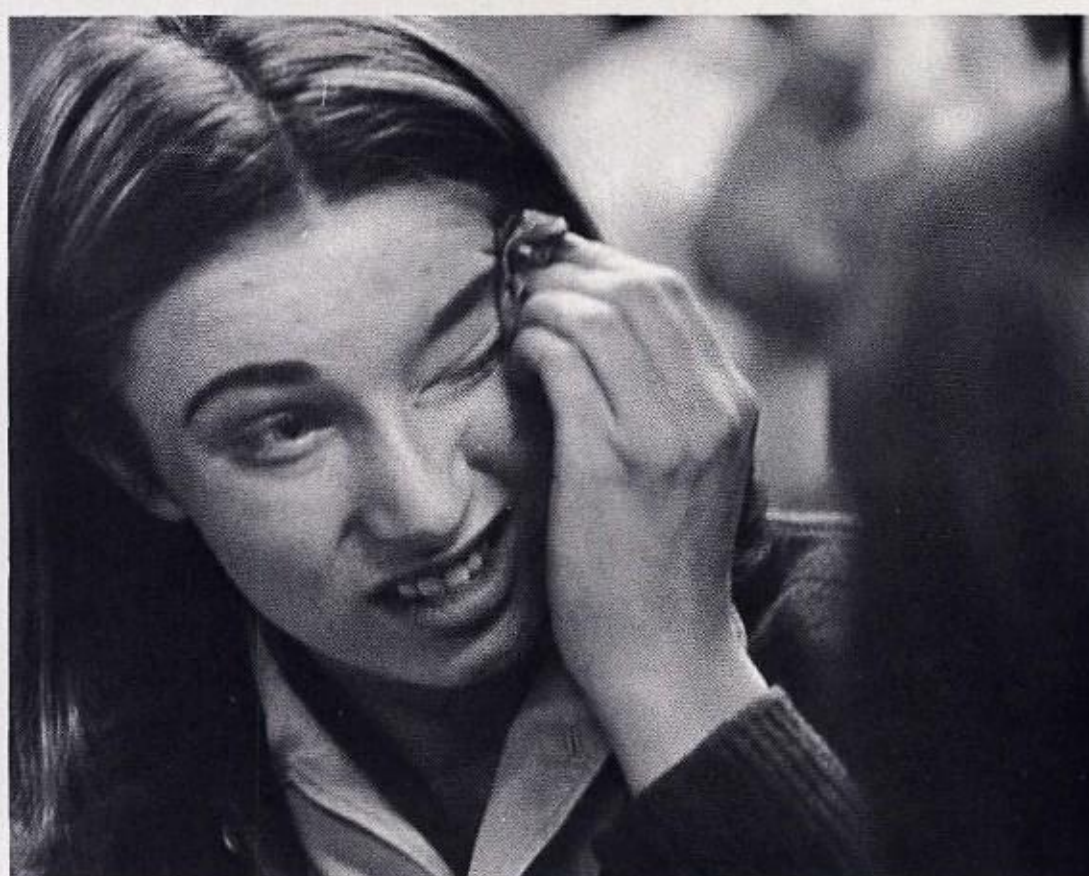

And Then Annie Said "Let There Be Light"

St. Catherine's Players reached a peak of dramatic achievement this year with the production of William Gibson's "The Miracle Worker". An emotional "earthquake", the play shows the transformation of Helen Keller (Diane Powell) from an animal who kicked, clawed, and lashed out at those who loved her, to a human being. The "miracle worker", the person who brought Helen from darkness to the light of communication, was Annie Sullivan (Pat Parsonese), her teacher, an "eager opinionated girl". Annie not only helped Helen but also taught her parents a valuable lesson in coping with exceptional children. More than one hundred Players contributed their time and energy to make this play one that would be remembered long after closing night.

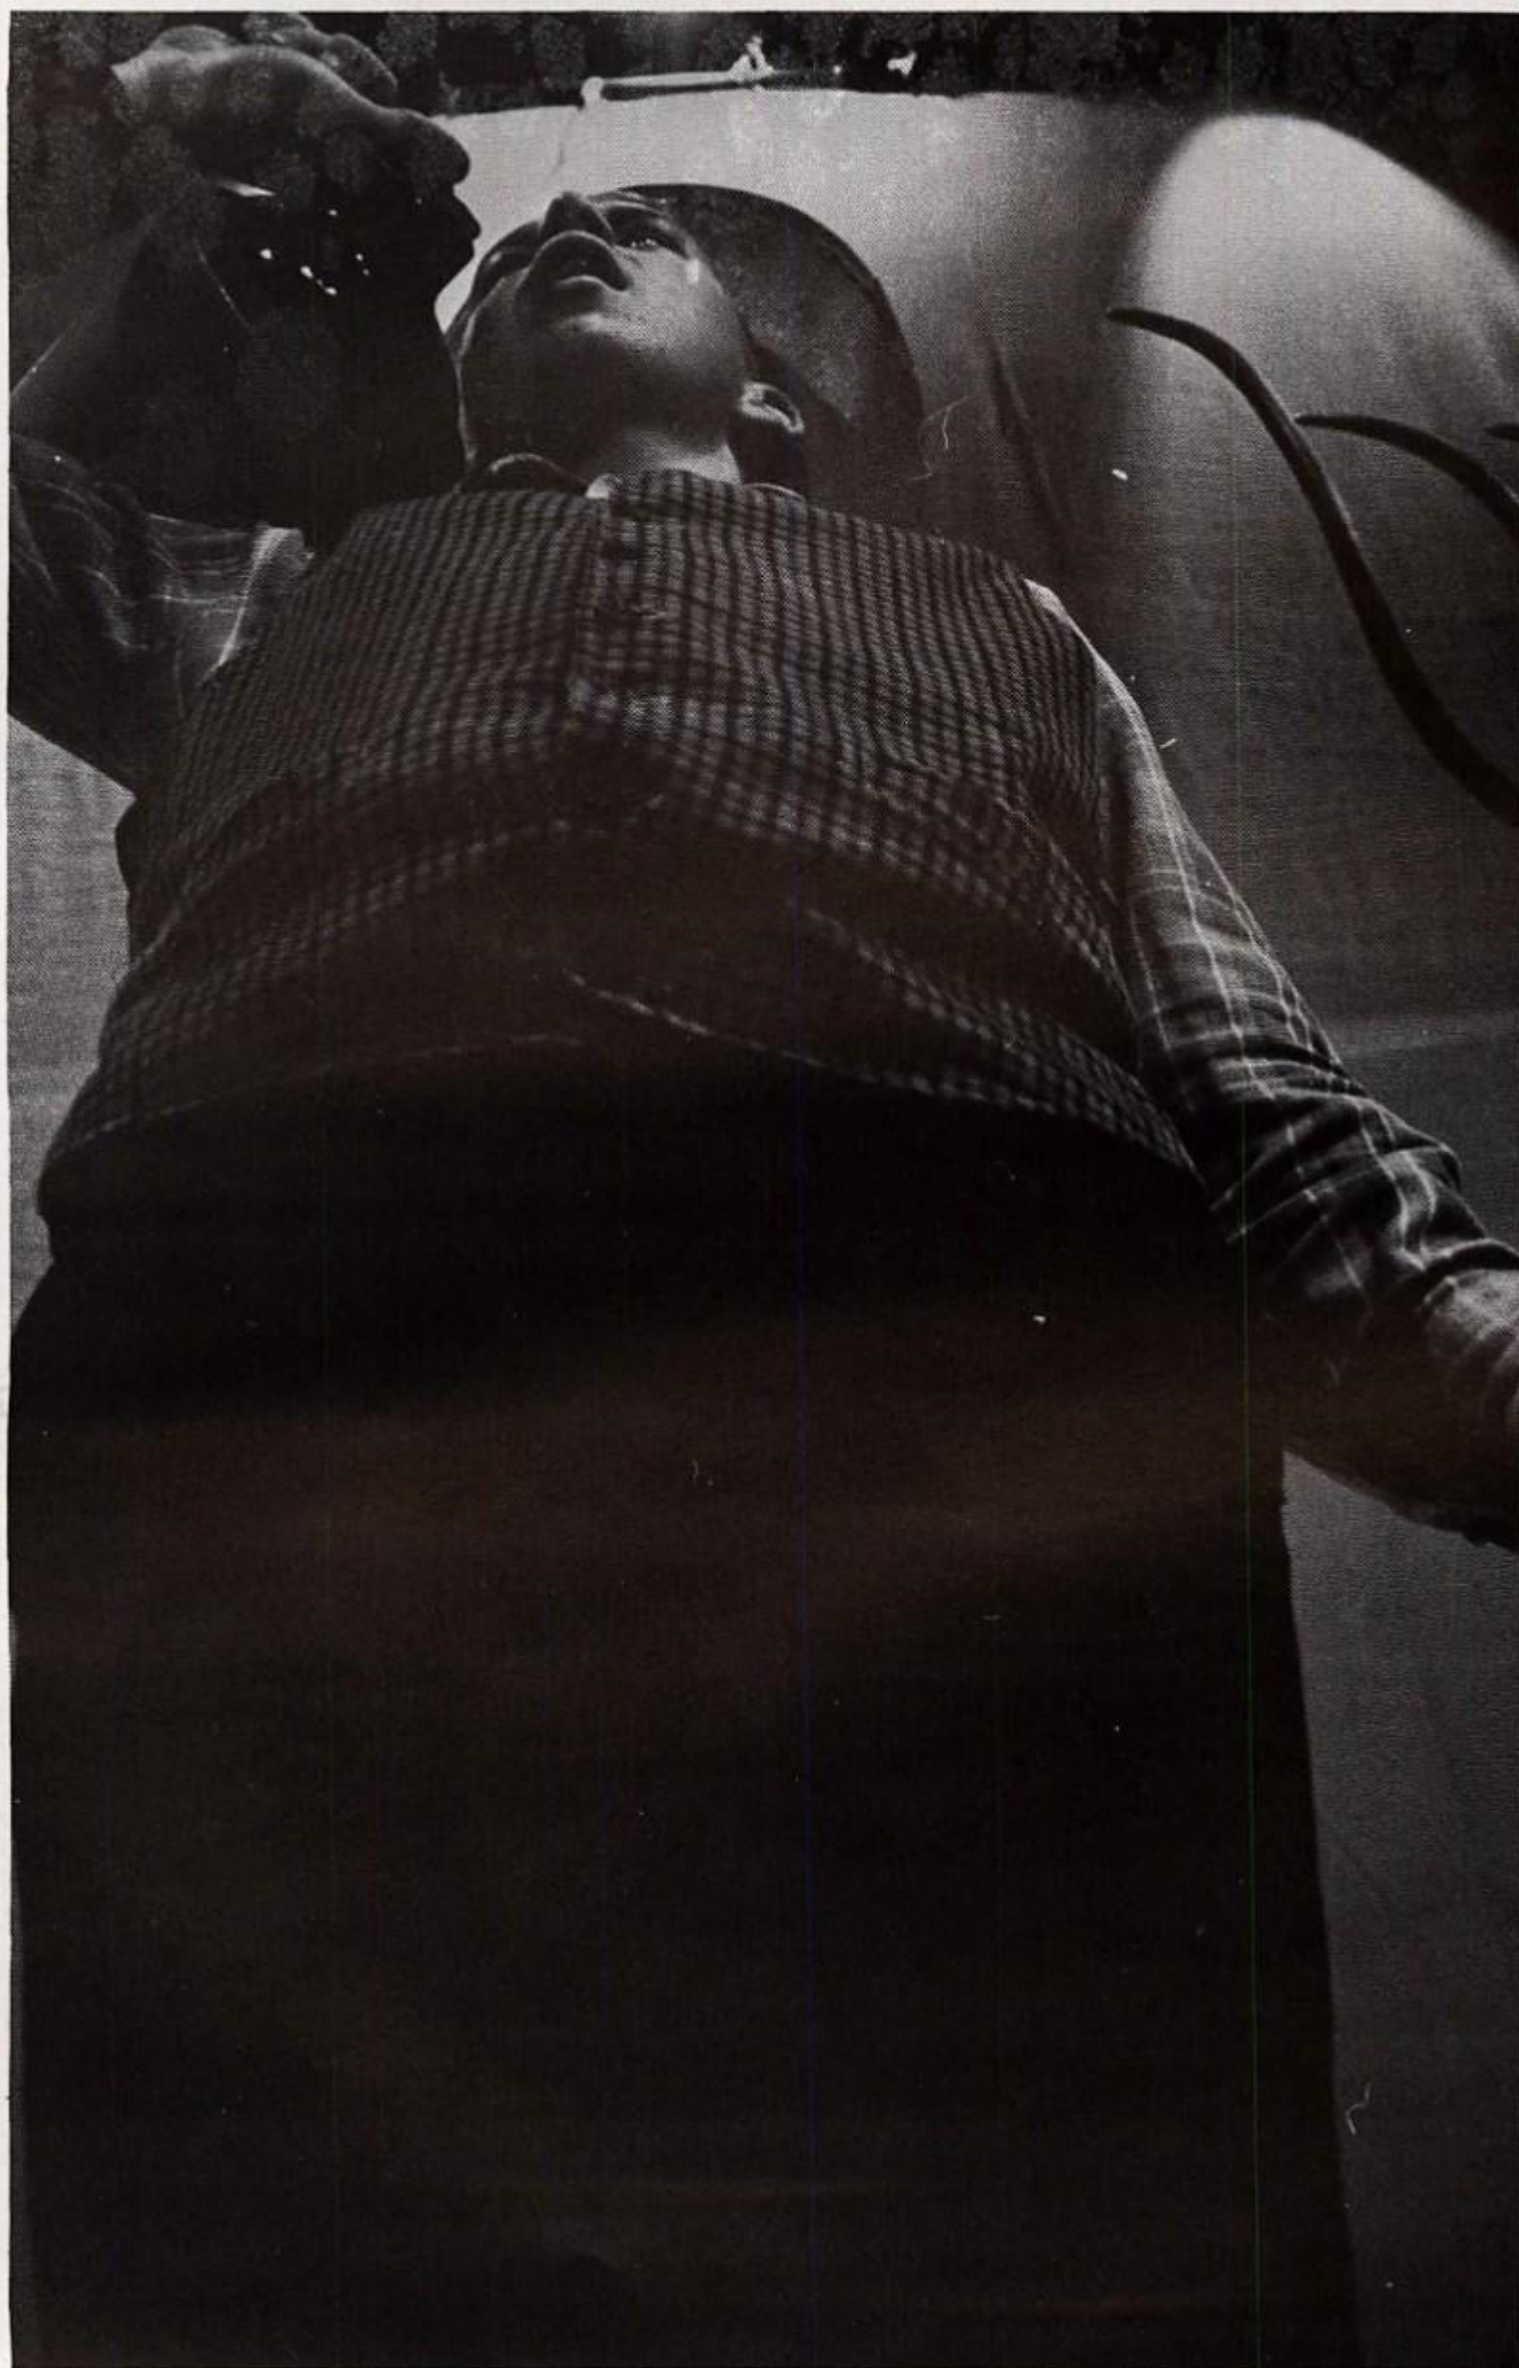

PERCEPTIVE TOUCH Diane Powell as Helen Keller attempts to "see" Annie Sullivan (Pat Parsonese) with her hands.

MAKE-UP MOP-UP Joanne Zielke comes to the painful part of the play as she removes stage make-up after make-up after her portrayal of Prissy in The Miracle Worker.

W-A-T-E-R Anne Sullivan (Pat Parsonese) spells into the hand of blind, deaf, and mute Helen Keller (Diane Powell).

Scenery, Costumes, Greasepaint—That's Show-Biz

FEELING HIGH Portraying Jack Smith in "Spreading the News", Tom Drier needed little encouragement from his brown jug to spread his good cheer.

Shhh!—with this admonition the curtain went up on “The Ring of General Macia’s” which illustrated the courage of men and women in a time of strife and which was the first play of three presented during “A Night of One Acts”. Next was “The Lottery”, an adaptation of the shocking short story by Shirley Jackson, which held the audience spellbound. “Spreading the News”, a humorous tale of “auld” Ireland, lifted the audience’s spirit and ended the program on a light note. The production served a dual purpose! providing an evening of entertainment and at the same time adding a touch of culture.

INNOCENTLY INFLUENCED In “Spreading The News,” Carolyn Terpstra is taken in by town rumors.

“DOWNFALL OF A DESPARADO” Raquel (Pat Parsonese) gazes in mingled disbelief and anguish at the body of Andres de la o (Dave Potts). The episode occurred during the play “The Ring of General Macias” presented by the Players.

Smiling Ministrations

"IT IS BETTER TO LIGHT ONE CANDLE . . ." Fred Krumburger prepares the altar as the student body prepares to offer the Mass for our missionaries.

While most of the school dozed for an extra half hour two servers faithfully reported to the auditorium to assist at 7:10 mass. What sort of organization would prompt such devotion to duty? The Knights of the altar include servers who assisted at Mass as altar boys during grade school. At St. Catherine's their responsibilities include aiding at such functions as Days of Recollection and Thirteen Hours devotion.

NEW WRAPPERS With three members of the Red Cross Club displaying their new uniforms, Peggy Fogarty, Maria Aiken, Sherry Wagner, Rose Mary Bazlewicz, Don Barranco, Tom Fiedel, and Vickie Bishop wrap Christmas gifts for the hospital.

Too much can never be said about the efforts of the Junior Red Cross. Included in their many activities were visits to Great Lakes Naval Station, Wood Hospital in Milwaukee, and Downey Hospital in Chicago. They also took under their charge the task of assembling and sending miniature care packages overseas.

THINGS GO BETTER . . .” Hostess Club members, vice-president, Gardenia Thomas, recording secretary, Karen Hansen, secretary, Pat Malmstadt, president, Chris Naleid and high-pointer, Faye Budzinski stock the cafeteria with “Coke” for the Miss SCHS dance.

Serving guests and faithfulness to duty were again the ritual of the Hostess Club members as they gave their services willingly to the betterment of social gatherings at St. Catherine’s. A pleasant appearance and generous willingness were always at hand.

DUTY FULFILLED Ushers Don Seitz and Mike Sucharda have seated their section and are intently watching to see what other tasks can be carried out.

Acting as guides for freshmen and upper-classmen and keeping assemblies and other school activities orderly, the Ushers have become a great asset to our school.

The Future Teachers of America, trying to fill the need for good teachers in the American schools, acquired experience through their many activities. Projects consisted of observing teachers at work and acting as tutors.

SECRETARY SERVICE Working on the Play Prom Project, members of Secretaries, Inc. Arlene Niesen, Carol Rybarik, Marie Aiken, Teri Hilgers, Roberta Seifert, Dolares Oettinger, and Joanne Koepck, lend their assistance.

The secretaries of St. Catherine's render particular services to the school and to the community. These efficient young ladies perform such services as working on program books, helping with the Play Prom Project, and assisting in local offices after school.

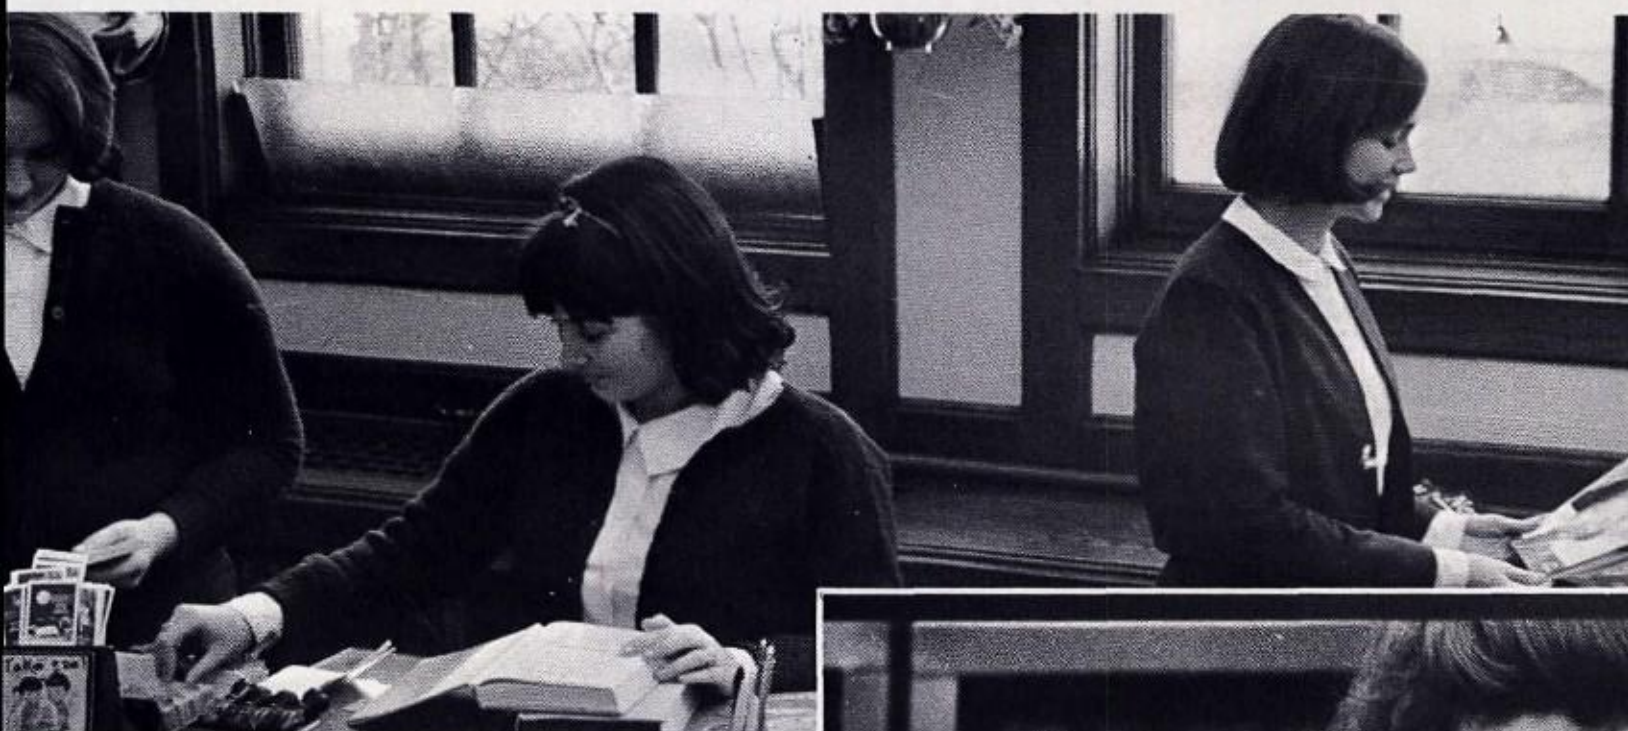

ADMINISTRATIVE RECEPTION Monsignor Witkowiak, Spiritual Director of Sodality and this year's officers: Chris Naleid, Prefect; Vickie Bishop, Vice-Prefect; Michelle Miller, Corresponding Secretary; Cathy Organ, Recording Secretary; and Shirley Kaminski, Treasurer, participated over installation ceremonies.

The new changes in the Ecumenical movement have given many interesting suggestions to our sodalists. Spiritual scripture reading assembly gave insight to the student body. Greater participation at the 7:10 Mass was achieved by Mass Club Day; many members of other clubs were encouraged by this new idea. Sodality movement brought our student body to a closer union with our faculty—religious and lay.

"WIL-KIL"—OR ELSE At their annual Nikolausabend, the Lorelei Club presented their own version of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin." In this scene irate citizens, Gary Andersen, Tom Przyarski, Tom Poulson, and John Moser, demand the immediate extermination of the rats that have over-run the city.

LES CHAPEAUX French Club members, Mary Ann Purcell, Eloise Sachs, Kathy Moran, Cathy Durbin, Lois Abrahamson, Lenore Grenke, Barb McNamee, gave their opinion of the "perfect" hat (everyone hand-made) for the Christmas dinner.

OPENING THE FEAST at the Latin Banquet, John Westrich, Steward of the Feast, crowns the wine with a laurel.

Languid?—Not Linguists!

The family of language clubs at St. Catherine's has had a new arrival—the Spanish Club. At each Spanish Club meeting a report was given by one of the four committees on some cultural aspect of Latin America.

The climax of Junior Classical League's year was the Roman Banquet, where Roman dress, food, and ceremonies were upheld.

"Nikolausabend," a St. Nicholas celebration was the high point of Lorelei, German Club, activities.

Through skits, French movies, and songs, French Club members became more familiar with France and its people.

Through these clubs, students imbibed the cultures associated with the languages they studied.

This year, Sophomores increased music appreciation by boosting the number of choral members to three hundred and twenty-five.

The advanced groups performed in the Ollie Johnson Scholarship Fund concert, Diocesan Secondary School Music Festival, and in the Operetta "Show Boat"; all musical groups participated in the Christmas concert and the Spring Extravaganza.

In preparation for the musical, "Show Boat," members of Choristers and All-Girl Chorus had the opportunity to see the movie to help them in their acting and dancing, and in getting across the moods of the play. The album was also used to aid those with parts to learn the many songs. The hours of practice made this year's operetta worth seeing and a stimulus to do as well in the future.

MATHEMATICAL MISS Vickie Bishop was the mistress of ceremonies at the Mu Alpha Theta Regional Meeting held at Dominican College last January.

For those genuinely interested in mathematics Mu Alpha Theta offers a challenging program that includes mathematics not taken up in class and creates greater enthusiasm in the subject on the part of the students. High on the list of activity this year was the Wisconsin Regional Meeting held at Dominican College on January 30 and sponsored by St. Catherine's chapter.

Loopholes Plugged and Competition Thwarted

Clear, concise thinking and the ability to give a logical, point-by-point proof of any and every conclusion reached, constitute a skilled debater. St. Catherine's varsity debaters displayed their skill this year as they gave their proofs and rebuttals of the resolution for the year: Resolved that there should be a national organization to control atomic energy.

Always keeping in mind their purpose, to perfect the art of speech, members of the Forensics Club entered several competitions this year. As a result of their journey to St. Joseph's, five first places were obtained, while a creditable rating was given at Pius, and a third place rating was won at Waukesha Memorial. Satisfaction and experience were the worthy rewards.

Pepsters and Cheerleaders Fortify Angels

Pep Club played one of the major roles in maintaining an enthusiastic spirit around St. Catherine's during the past year.

Members created posters to remind St. Catharinites about sports events, sold popcorn during the games, and helped with the assemblies.

Joining forces with Pep Club in supporting school spirits were the cheerleaders. Faithful in their services, our cheerleaders captivated the crowds with their enthusiasm and loyalty to our team.

Lively Nights and Knights

"Don't let it be forgot, that once there was a spot, for one, brief, shining moment of pure glory, that was known as Camelot." This tune along with many other songs of the musical "Camelot" were hummed by students of St. Catherine's during the hectic homecoming weekend. Festivities started with the Senior Supper and the Assembly. The crowning of Queen Maureen was the highlight of the evening. Gallant knights and their elegant ladies crowded the great hall Friday evening, for the Homecoming dance. The victory rosary and Homecoming parade preceded the awaited game with Jordan. The weekend closed on a sad note with our defeat; but still "our" Camelot, also, will not easily be forgot.

HOLD! Ron Wolter and Jerry Oksuita, the guards of the Camelot moat, watch over the festivities taking place in the castle front yard.

EDITORS' EFFORT Co-editors Jeff Pettit and Jeanne Wyant plan the next issue of the Shield.

Informing the student body on events around the school was as big a job for the Shield staff in the past year as in the years before. The headlines were printed on the Heidelberg press at the convent print shop, and the paper was done by off-set instead of letterpress. An IBM typewriter was used to type both copy and captions.

From March 11 through the fifteenth the Shield staff attended a journalism convention at Columbia University.

Another item on their busy schedule was the Miss SCHS assembly and dance. Again, the duo-dance was given. As far as the school newspaper goes, 1965 was termed a very rewarding year.

Court of Siam Revived for Miss SCHS

Suspense was high. Eleven hopeful girls tensely awaited the choice of their class. Amid the splendor of Japanese lanterns and a graceful pagoda, Miss St. Catherine of 1965 was announced. Jeff Pettit and Paul Caffee as MC, made one girl very happy at that moment. The lucky girl was Chris Naleid. Her many activities and willingness to lend a hand won for her the honored position.

As first attendant Vickie Bishop and second attendant Gretchen Hecht along with the newly chosen queen were entertained by a lively skit produced by the Shield staff.

This Firm Hires Slave Labor Only

"Have the Lances arrived yet??" This is the one big question which circulated through the halls as the school year drew to a close. The people with the answers were the haggard staff. Always busy and in a continuous rush, they often wondered how those too-frequent deadlines would ever be met. Many hours were spent writing copy, planning layouts, and taking pictures. Proof reading, thinking of clever captions, and alphabetizing the names of the student body were also the order of the day. Gluttons for hard work, the staff was tired but satisfied with their achievement. There's no time for resting though, plans for the 1966 Lance are already in the making.

TWO-WAY STRETCH Mickey Postorino and his opponent make a final effort to reach their objectives.

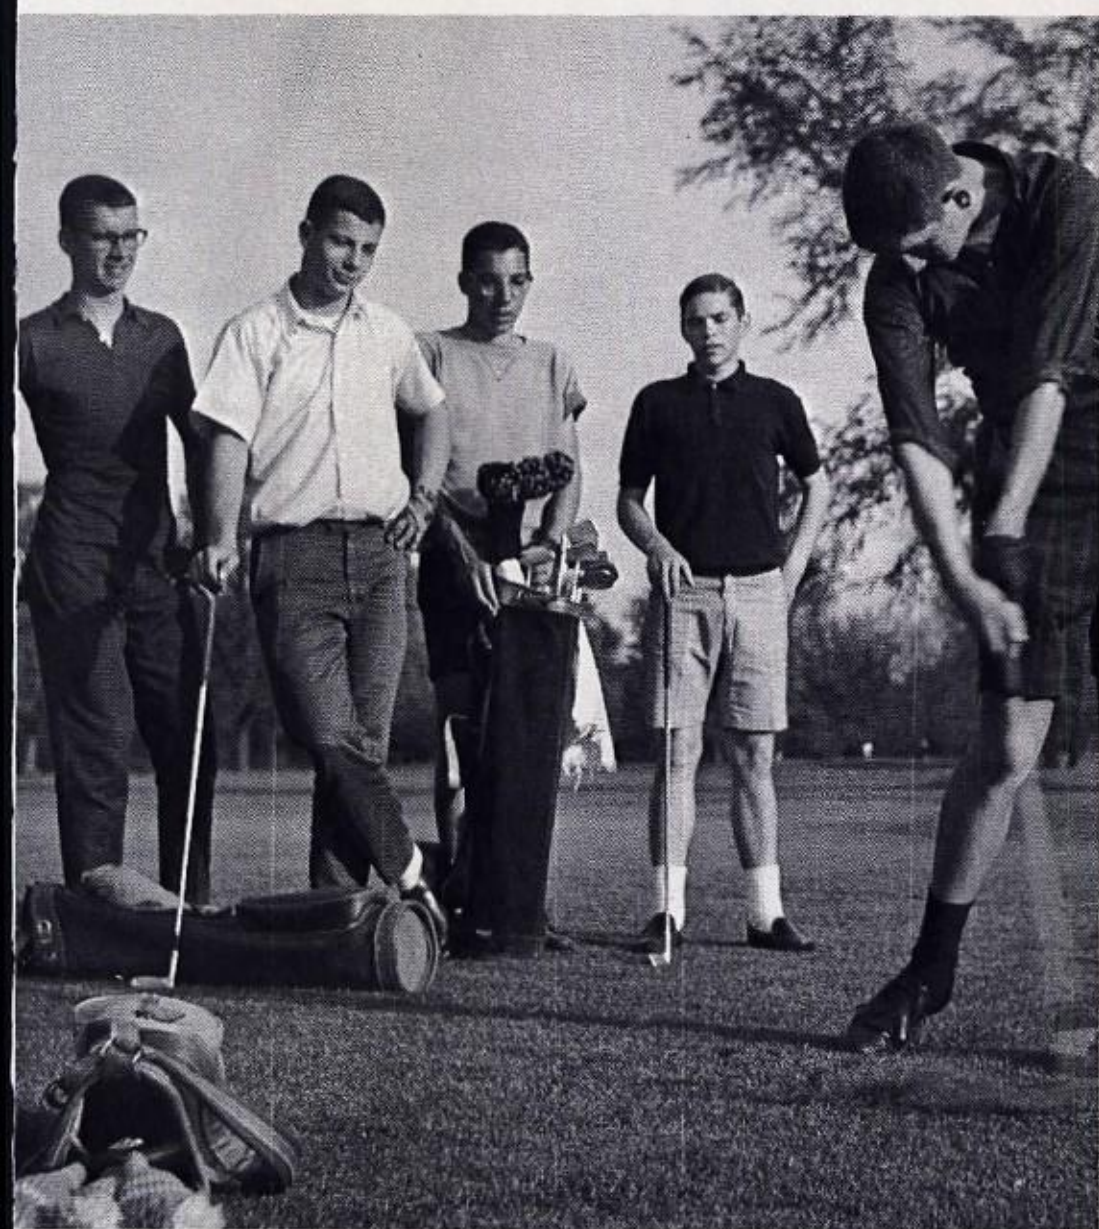

HIT AND RUN ... back to the dugout. Rich Nygro misses the ball a third time deserving a seat in the dugout.

Playing the game as Abner Doubleday meant it to be played the Angels opened the season with a (7—2) victory over Salem Central. Then they romped over Burlington 12—1 and followed that with a fine 7—1 victory over Madison Edgewood. To open the Catholic Conference season they disposed of St. Bonaventure 12—2 and outclassed Notre Dame 16—0. After dumping Waterford 15—1 and Whitewashing Waukesha Memorial 6—0, they dropped a close 3—2 decision to Pius XI. Undaunted, they rebounded by shutting out Burlington St. Mary's 5—0 and beating Don Bosco 4—1 and Dominican 6—3. Then after winning against St. Joseph's 6—2 they dropped a 6—2 ballgame to Marquette. However, they ended the season in championship style as they handed a loss to St. John Cathedral and a 3—1 decision to Messmer.

SLICIN' SAND Chris Long hits his ball out of the sand trap and hopes he gets on the green.

Clubbing Everyone

Under the coaching of Mr. Dvorany, the Angel golfers had another successful season capturing 10 wins and 2 losses. The team's emphasis on good control and consistent practicing proved effective in the first four games beating: University of Wisconsin Extension, Lake Forest, Francis Jordan, and Oak Creek. After a loss to St. Joseph's, we sprang back to defeat University of Wisconsin Extension, Don Bosco, Francis Jordan, St. Joseph's, and Oak Creek. A triumph over Marquette followed a squeaker over Lake Forest. The boys ended the season with a third place at the State Tournament.

2nd Year—Same Story

In the second year of the sport, our team ran over, under, around, and through all the obstacles on the course while remembering to run away from everybody else en route to a (10—0) record and conference championship.

They knocked off Burlington High (17—46) and in the rematch (18—40). After swamping Pius XI (17—48) they won both meets of a double-dual meet (We just do 'em; we don't explain 'em!) by identical (15—50) scores over Jordan and St. John's Military Academy. In the ensuing meets they dropped Memorial (16—47), Marquette (25—31), and Milwaukee Lutheran (15—50).

In the Southeastern Wisconsin Prep Cross Country Conference meet they scored 26 to Marquette's 42 and Pius' 67.

SUCHARDAS PLUS THREE Richy Sucharda, Mike Sucharda, Paul Chaffee, Tom Paulson, and Terry Paulson await the start of another Cross Country run.

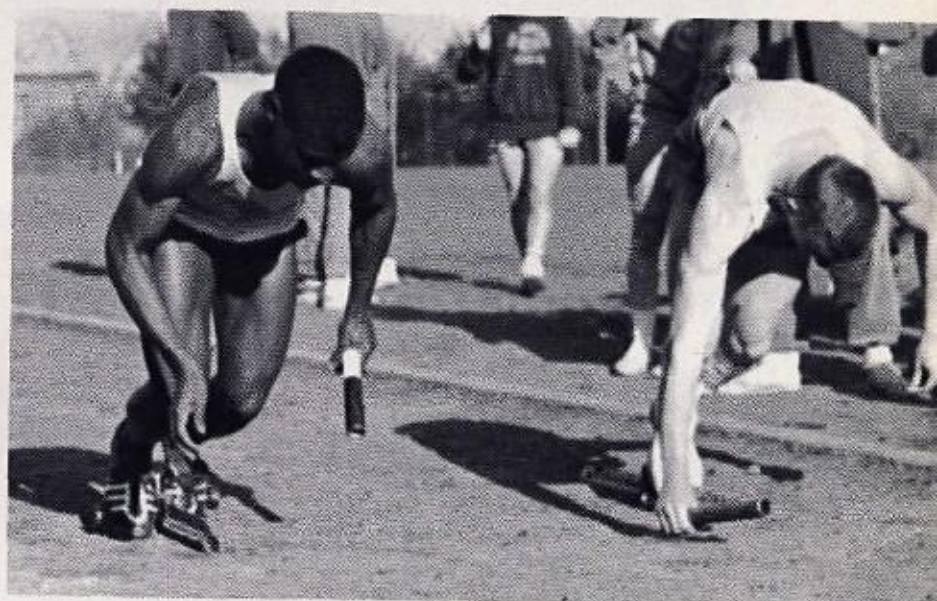

TOM SWIFTIES Making the daily rounds of practice are: Larry Carolan, Pat Drier, Dick Stindle, Bill Burke, and Randy Feest.

Judging from the 1964 track season, there could likely be a smile on Coach Dick DeShriver's face as he envisions better things to come. And it wouldn't be without reason. The Angels of track and field managed to break even this year. They beat Messmer decisively 74—44 and finished last in a three team meet, but with 34 points compared to Waukegan's 67 and Antioch's 47. Then they ran away from Union Grove 103—15. Success again came their way as they edged Francis Jordan 60—58. The last two meets were losses to two track powerhouses, a 96 $\frac{1}{3}$ —21 $\frac{2}{3}$ loss to Marquette, and a 82 $\frac{1}{2}$ —35 $\frac{1}{2}$ decision to St. Joseph of Kenosha.

EFFORT TO THE END Randy Letsch realizes his play is ended as he feels the grip of his opponent.

SHOWDOWN The Angels line up with Jordan as a pass is declared for future action.

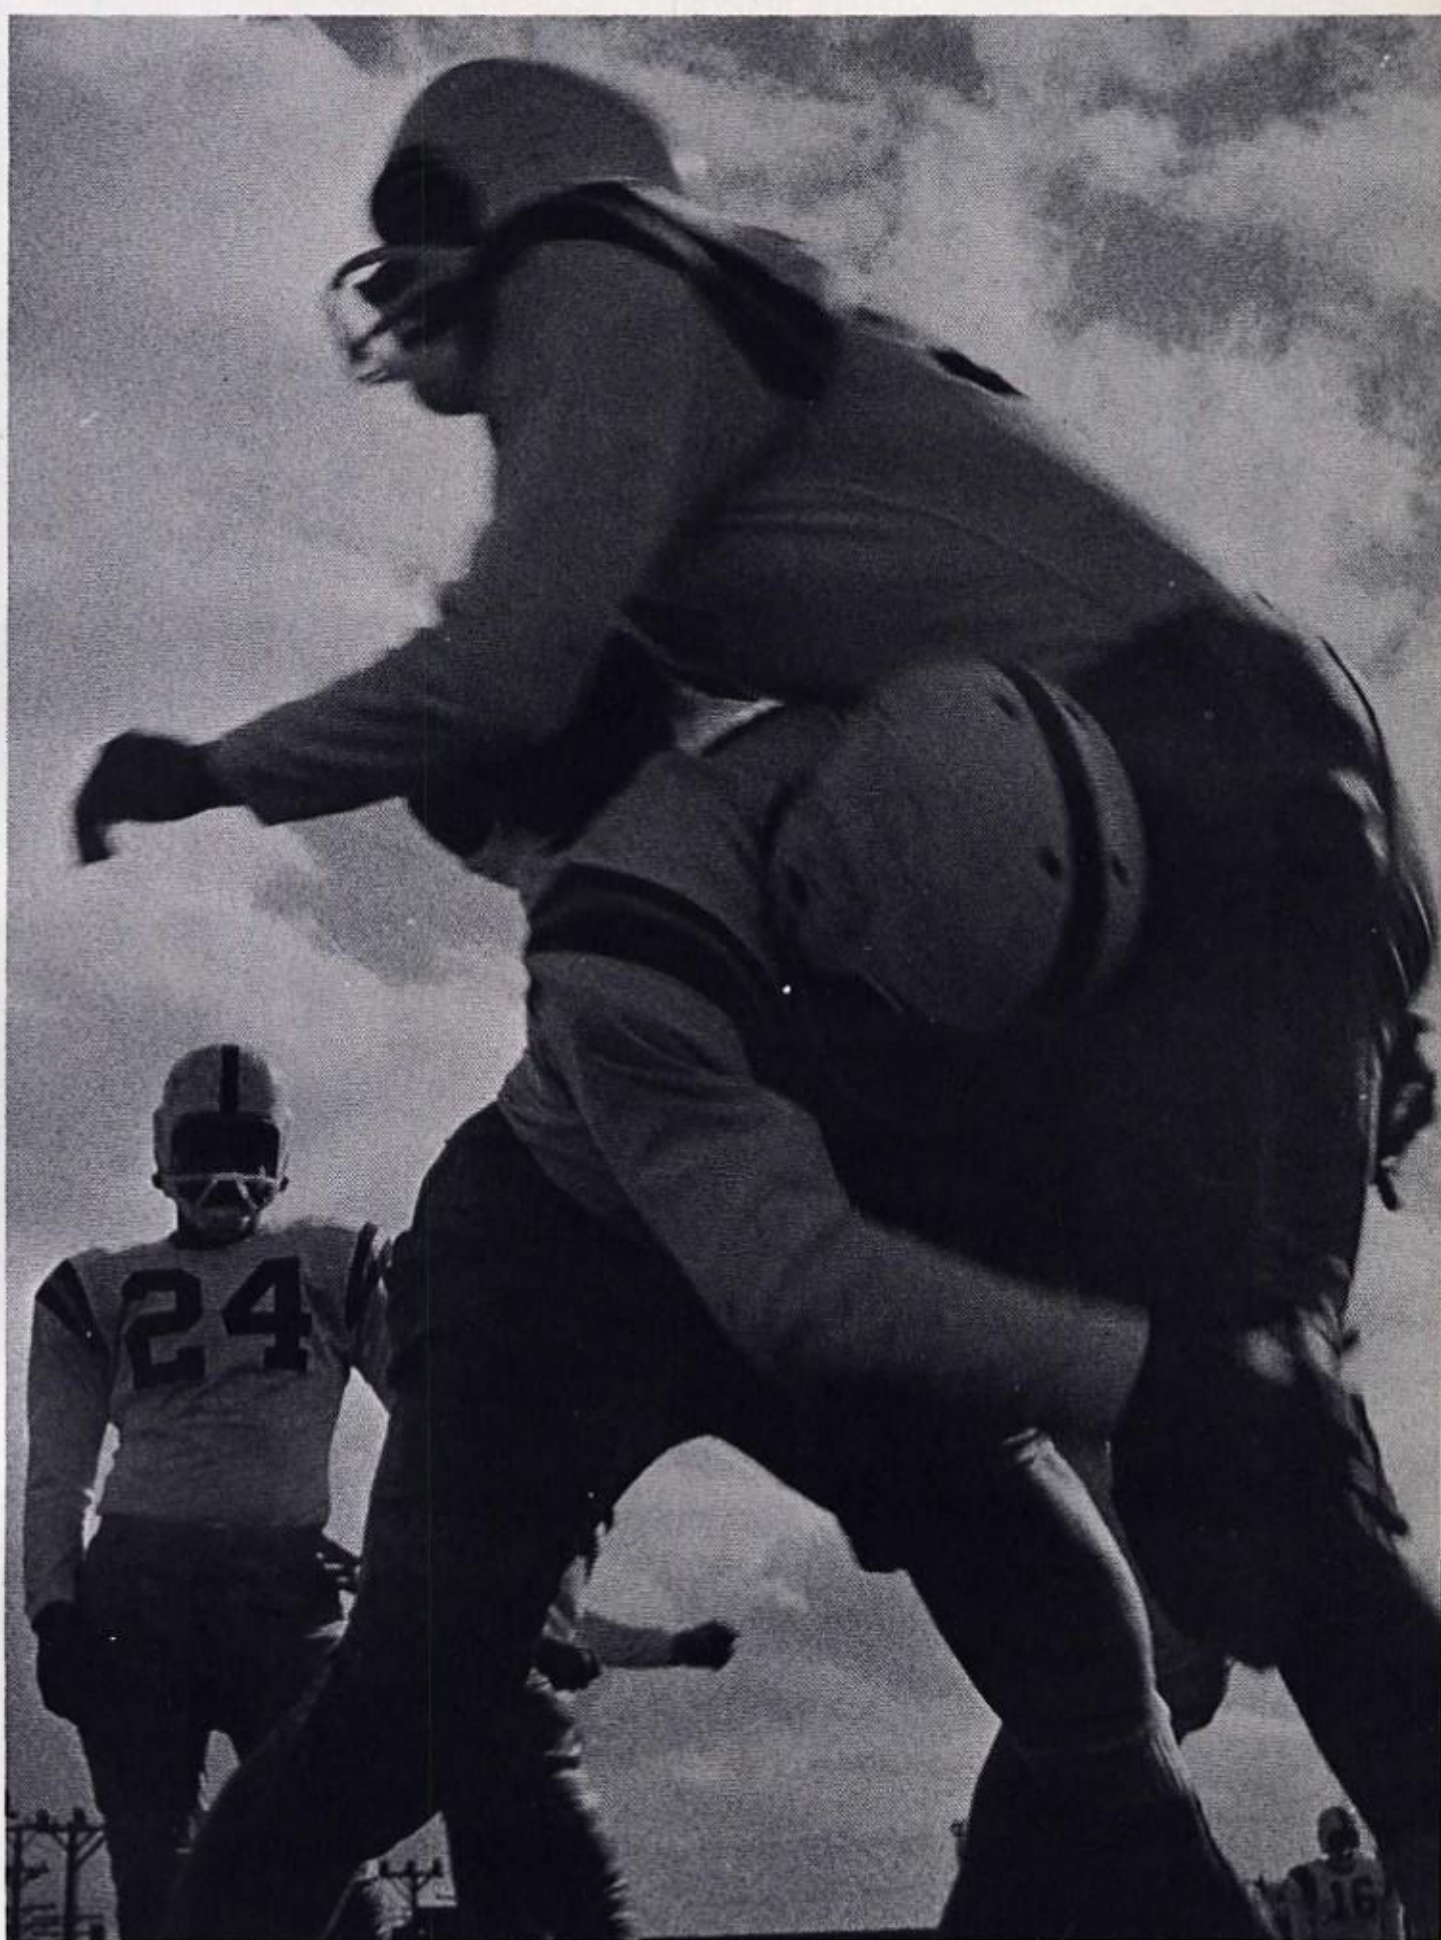

It has been said that the best defense is a good offense. Unfortunately that statement doesn't make sense vice-versa. Coach Dick DeShriver's gridiron Angels (2-7) for the most part played good defensive football. But the offense just didn't click. There were, to be honest, several injuries to key offensive men and this could have been a determining factor. The Angels lost the season opener to powerful Chicago Weber 32-22. But they rebounded to drop Cathedral 12-0 as they opened conference play. In three succeeding games they were beaten by slim margins Don Bosco 13-6, Notre Dame 9-7, and tough Marquette 6-0. They dropped an 18-0 contest to Waukesha Memorial and were crushed by St. Joseph 49-7. However, they ended the season on a winning note—a sound 32-21 trouncing of Little Flower of Chicago.

EXTENDED AND ENTWINED Dexter Baker watches as Tom DeMark fights for a rebound at the state tournament.

For the eighth straight year our St. Catherine basketball team ended up in the state Catholic tournament. And for the fifth time in as many years they worked their way to the championship game. They lost, but we are truly proud of their fine second place finish. Mickey Postorino and Tom DeMark made the all-tournament team. Coach Jim Kersten's cagers had an overall (16—9) record. They opened the season with four straight wins, beating Milwaukee West, Racine, Lutheran, St. Bonaventure, and St. Joseph. After suffering a double-overtime loss to Notre Dame they beat Pius XI, Cathedral, Lutheran, again, and Green Bay Premontre. They hit low tide losing successively to Marquette, Jordan, Don Bosco, and Dominican before reversing the trend by beating Memorial. Following a loss to Messmer they beat St. Bonaventure and St. Joseph, lost to Notre Dame and Pius, and closed by beating Cathedral. Winning the Region 8 tourney by racing past St. Bonaventure and St. Joseph, they opened state tournament play by dumping Wausau Newman.

They beat Pius XI again and won the right to play Marquette for the Championship. Marquette won, but the Angels proved their high calibre and loyalty in spirit to St. Catherine's.

They "Dood" It

"Catholic Conference Champs" is a title that the Junior Varsity basketball team is beginning to like, and their delight could be attributed to the fact that 1965 was the second year in a row they received the title. Though Pius had their say (causing the first defeat in 36 games) the Jayvees "never said die" and claimed the championship trophy gladly.

FLEXING HIS MUSCLES? Limbering his muscles, Jim Horvath seemingly impresses the Cathedral players.

They call themselves the Jolly Junior Giants. Well, at least nobody proved to be bigger. While the girls did a snow job on the frosh and seniors, the boys walked off with intramural honors in the same fashion.

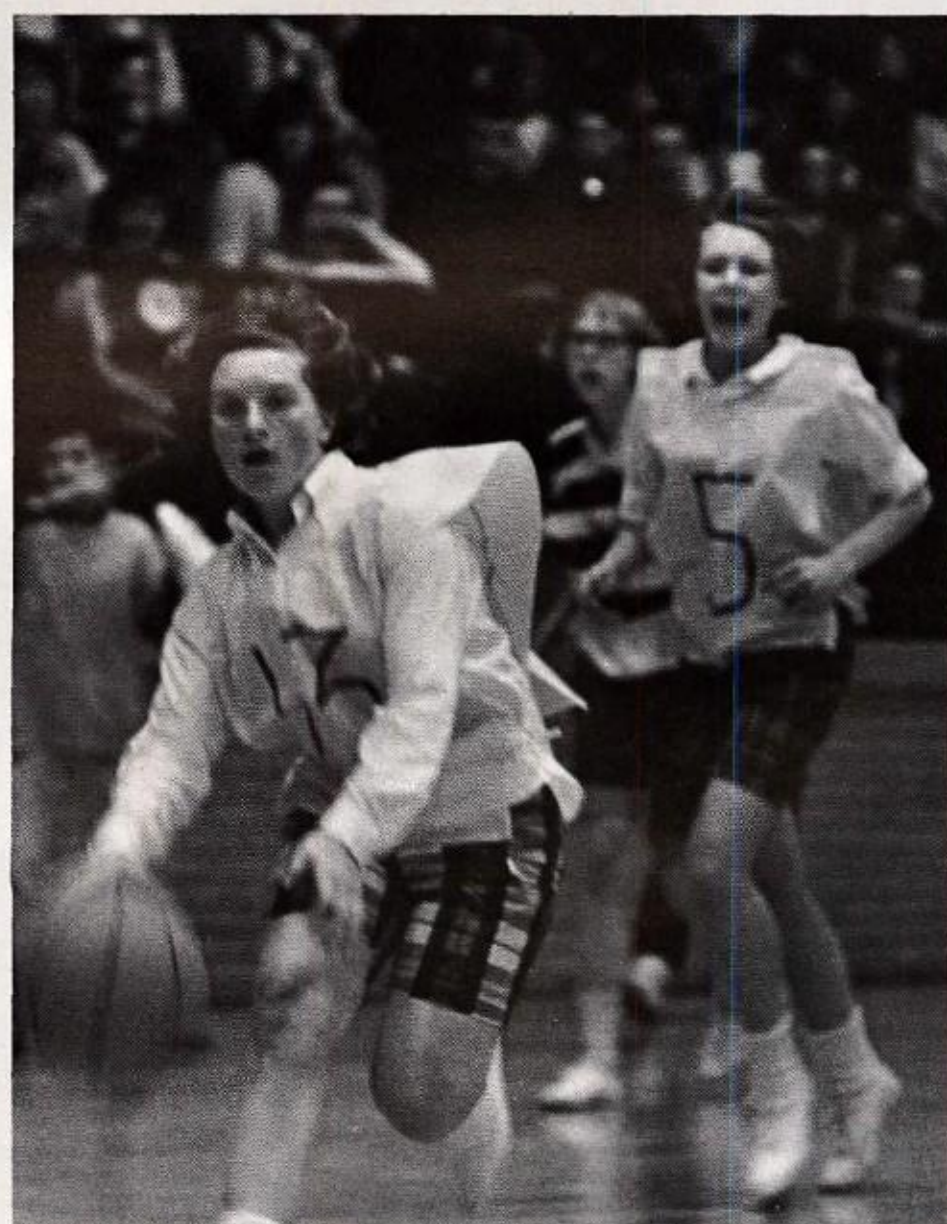

In a preliminary game, the seniors edged the sophs 85—53 to earn a shot at the juniors. Meanwhile, the juniors mauled the frosh 96—26.

In the championship game the seniors were the big shots but the juniors were the good shots. The halftime score was 36—26 in favor of the juniors. But they put on a second half display of power and won 81—65. The junior girls swamped the seniors 41—23 the same night.

WHO GREASED THE BALL? Attempting to catch a loose ball are senior Chris Naleid, soph Hilary Miller, and senior Sue Heidenreich.

"YOU DROPPED SOMETHIN'" "Okay, so I'll pick it up," says Donna Hoey to senior Joyce Baker.

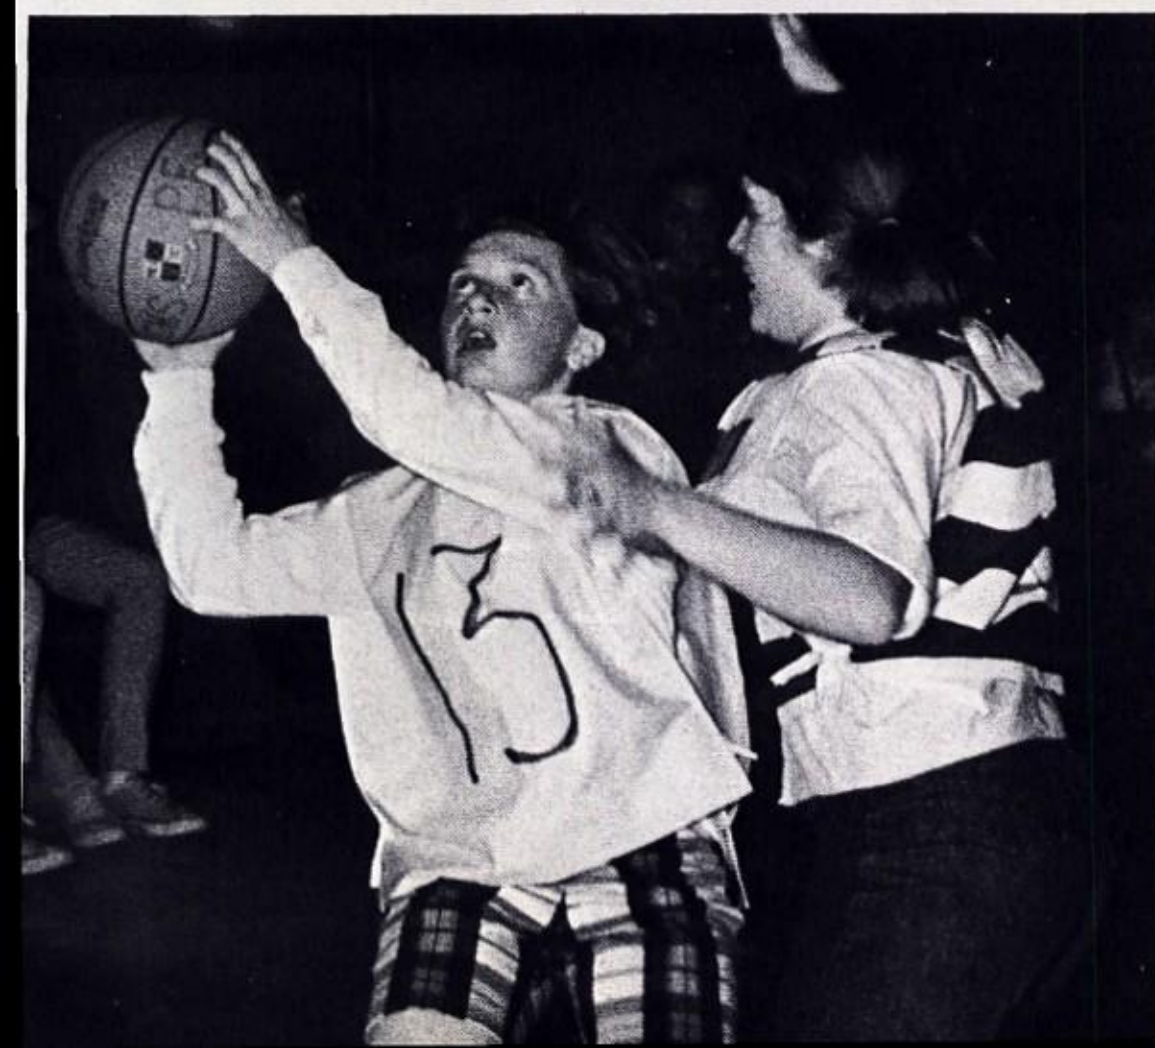

MOVE IT! Jane McDonald shouts encouragement to Kathy Paur as she dribbles down the court.

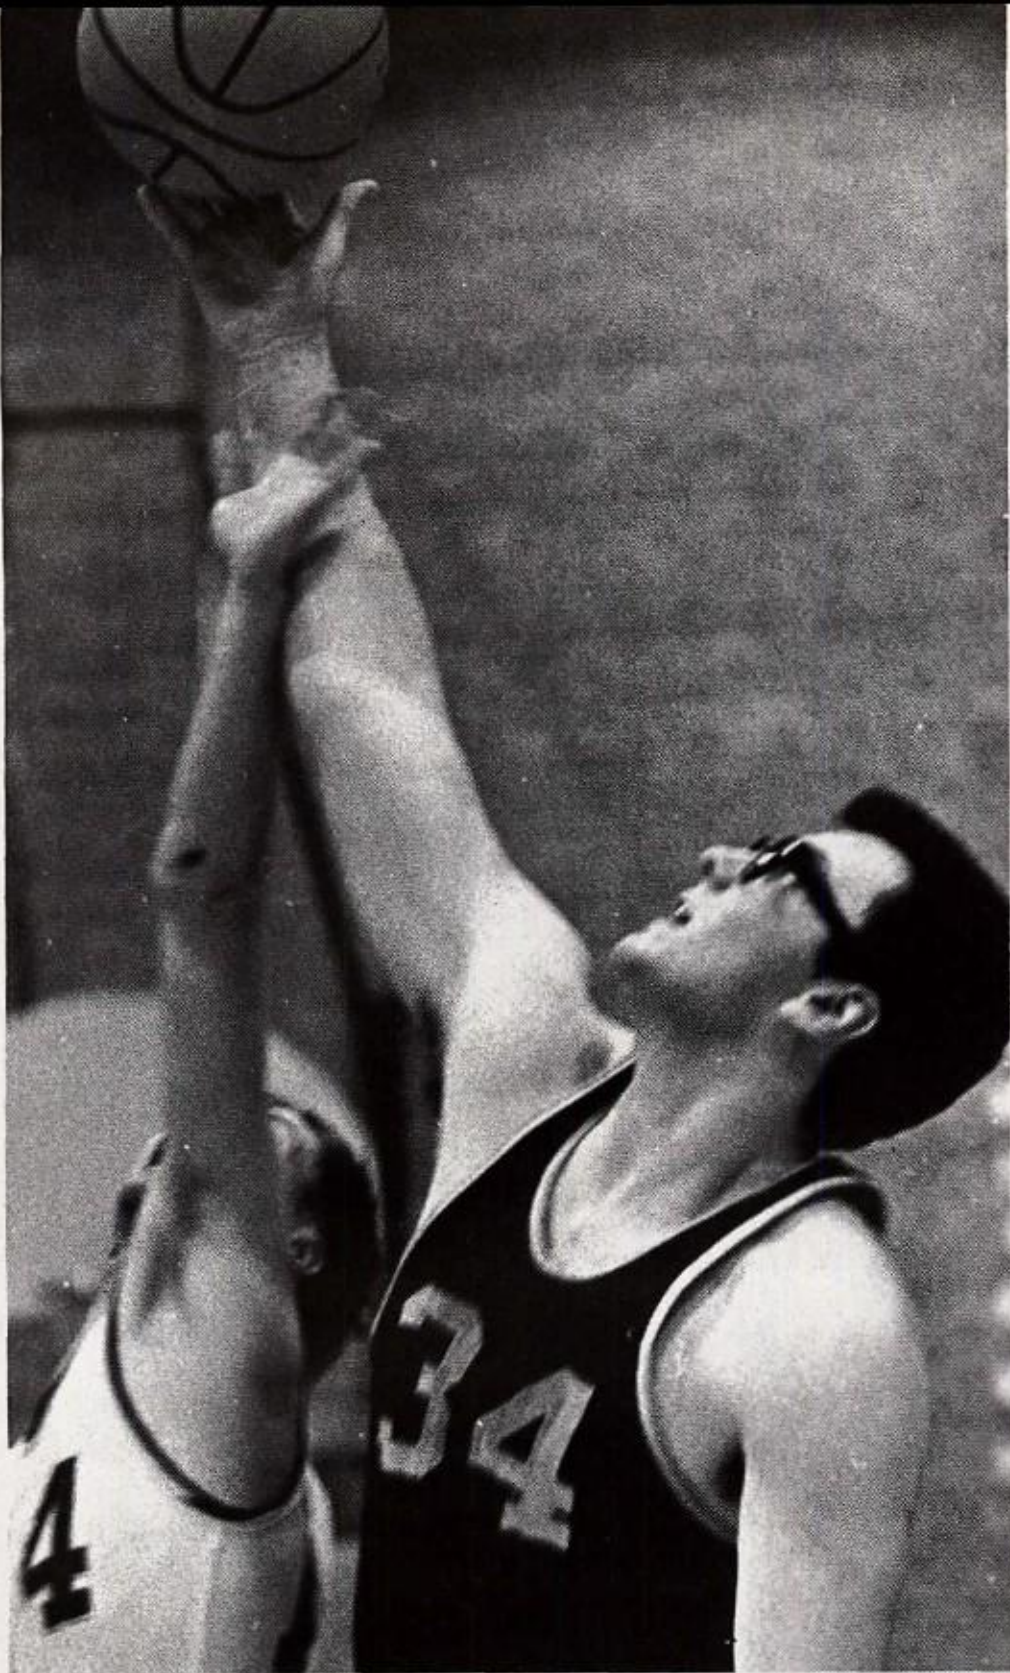

Juniors Are So Big . . . and Jolly!

SUPERCALIFRAGILISTICEXPIALIDIOUS SUPPORTERS are Miss Leach (coach,) Sister Jeremy (advisor), and a little fan for the Sophomores.

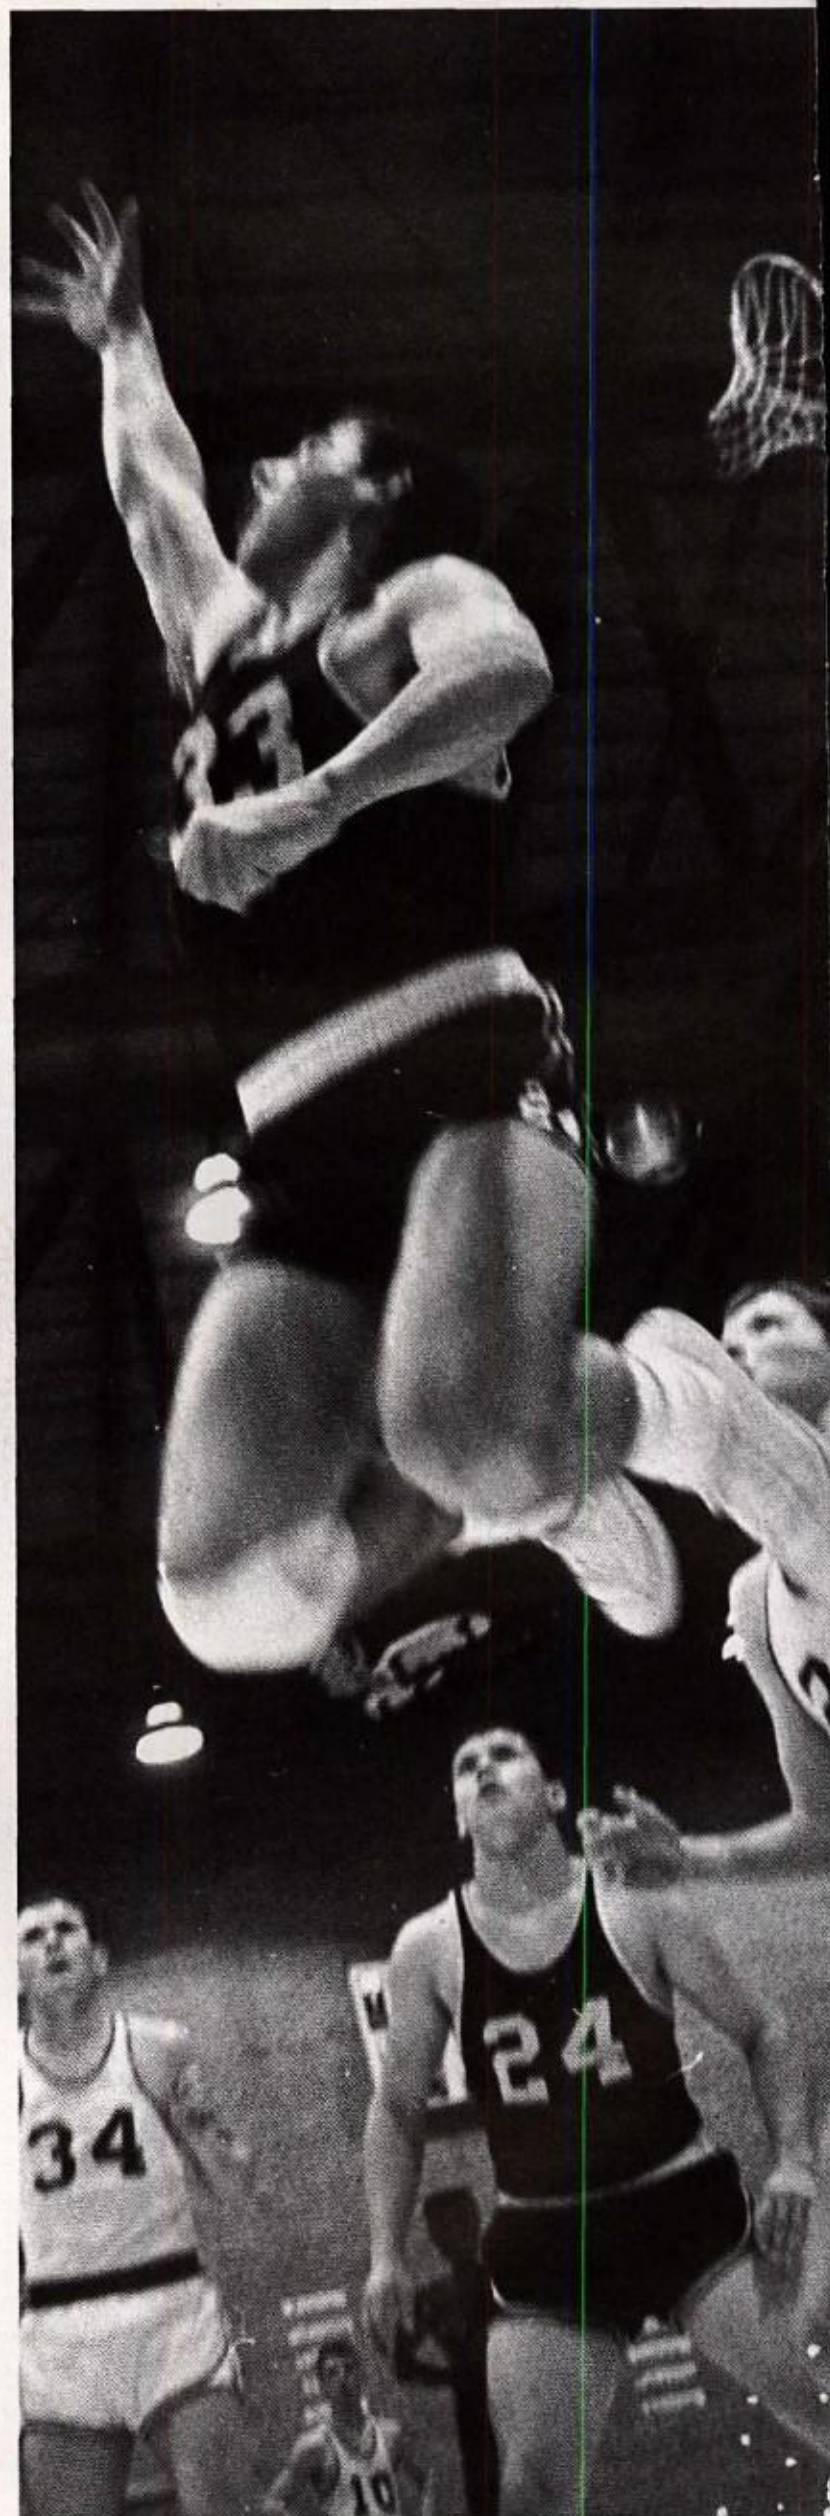

YOU WON'T MAKE IT! "Go ahead, try the shot," says a confident Vickie Bishop to an apprehensive Kathy Paur.

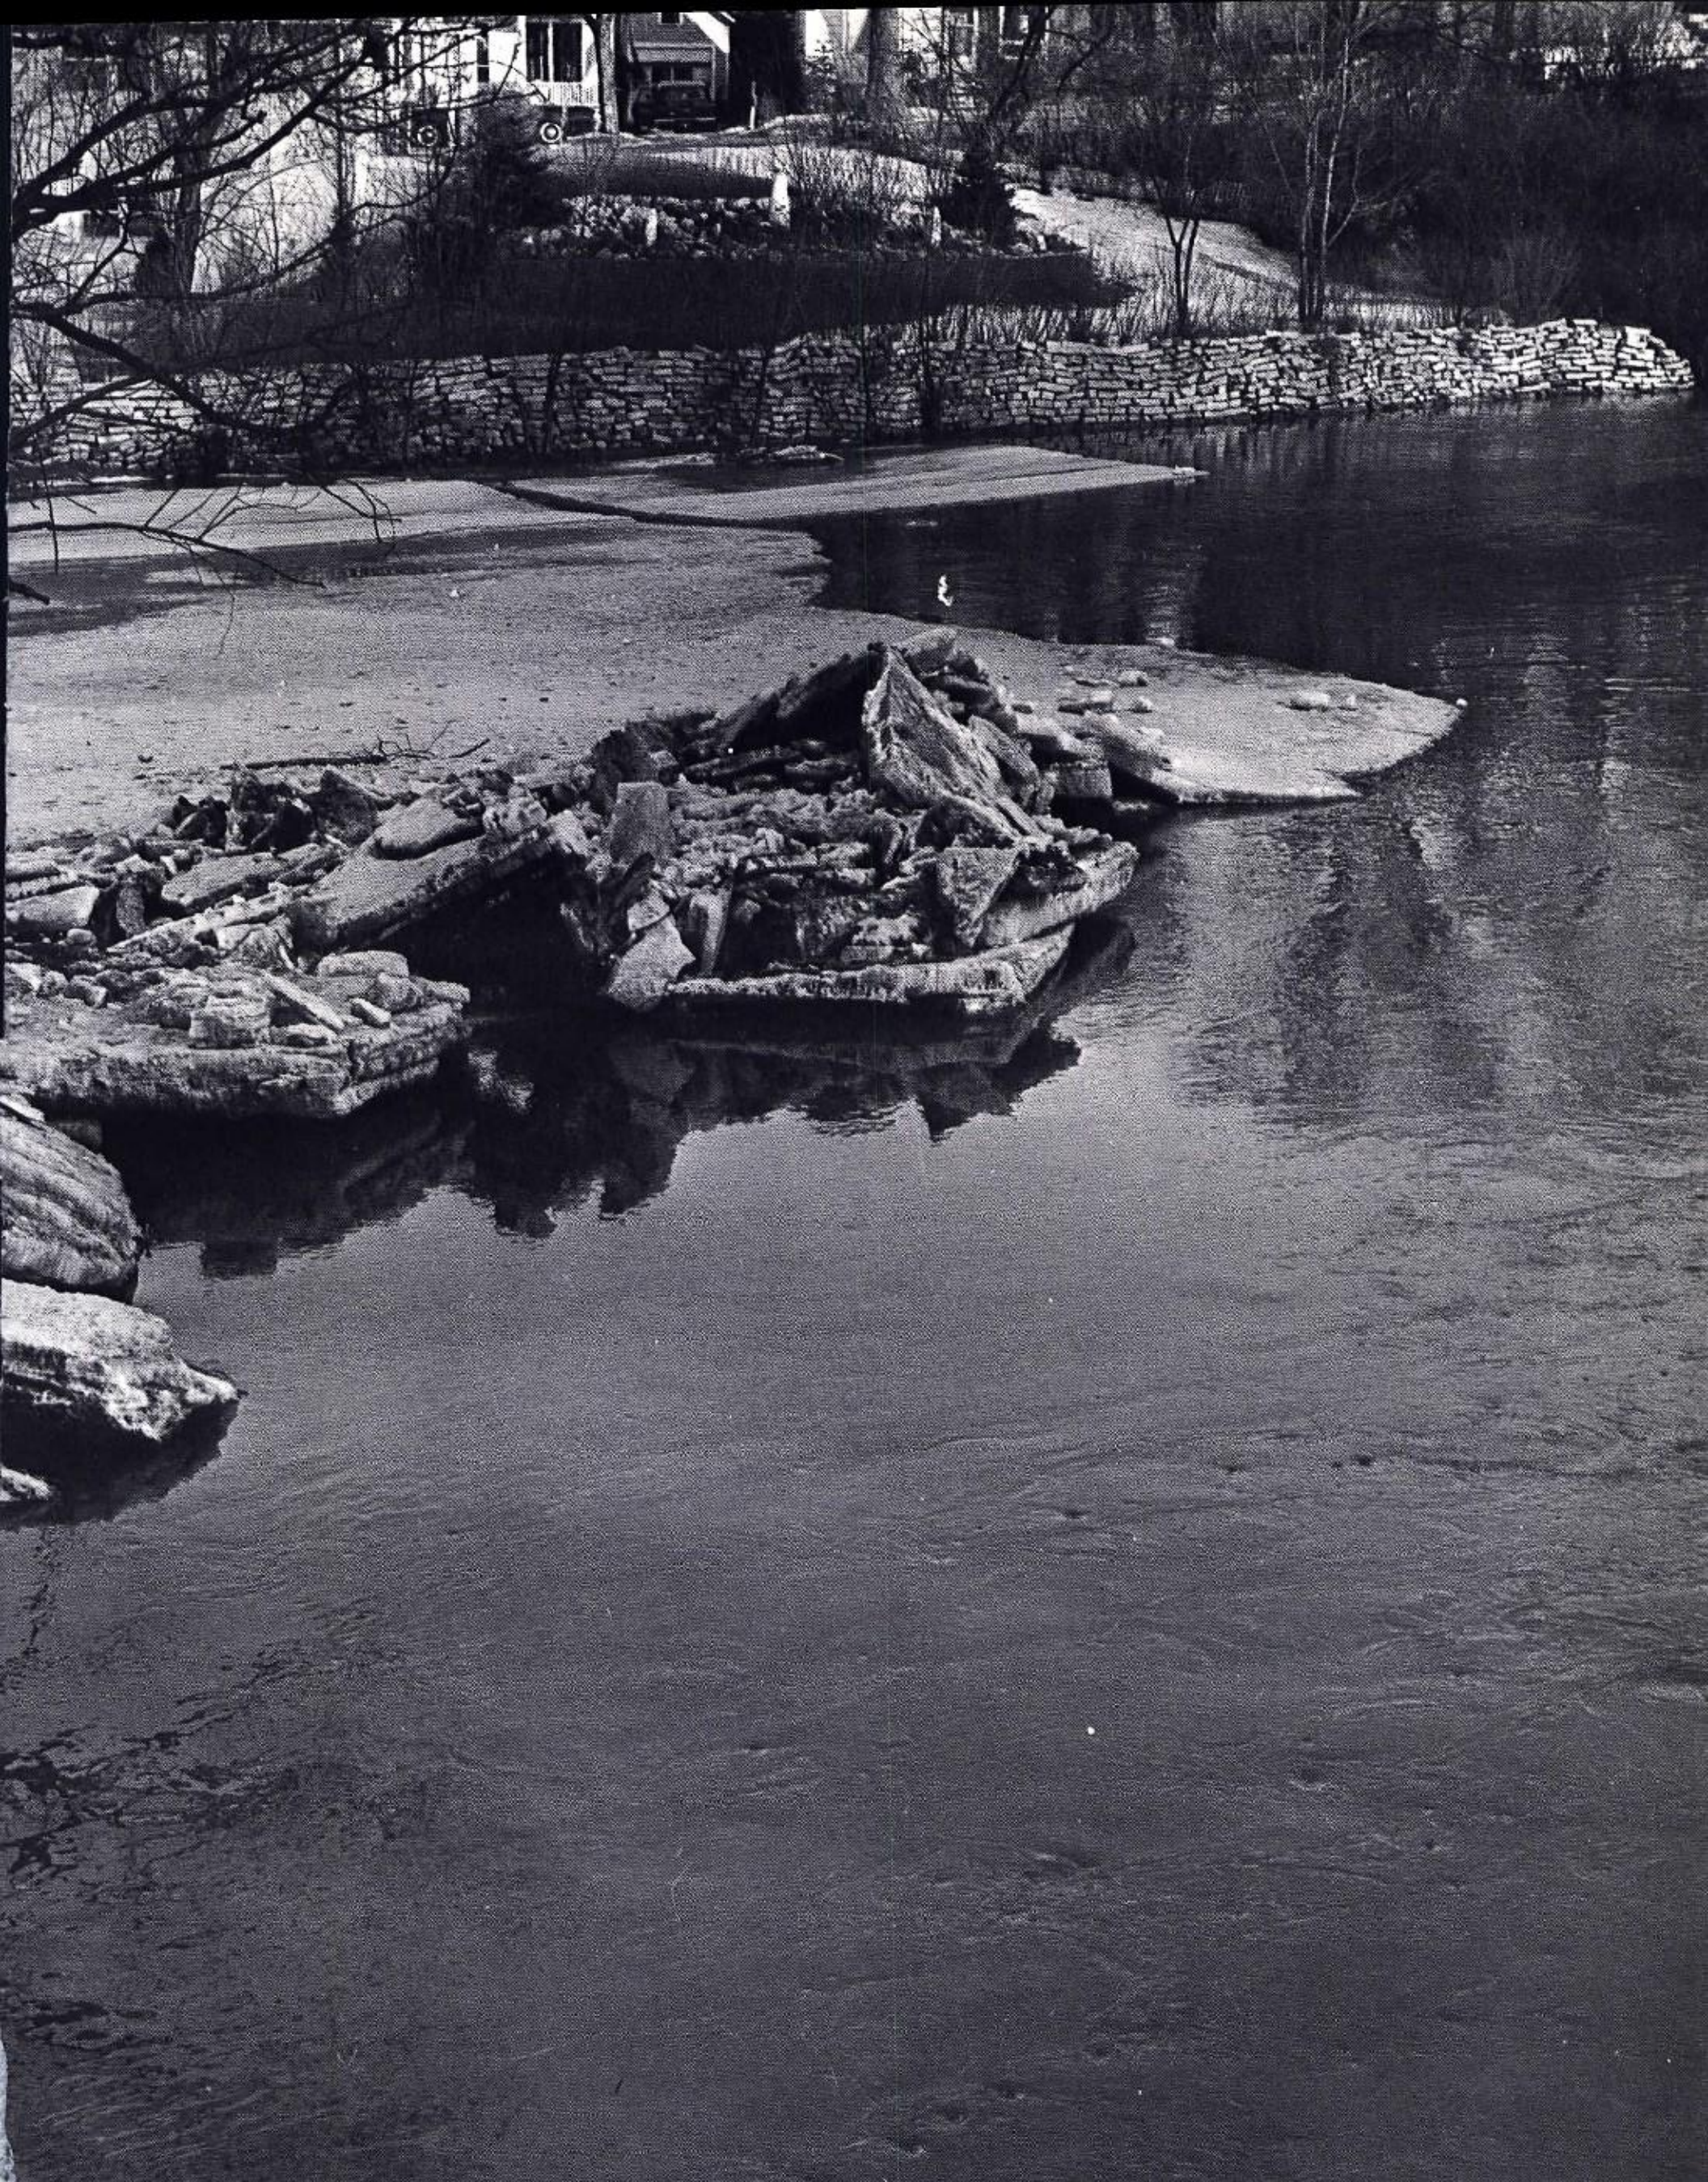

LOOK WHAT THEY'RE GROWING NOW! Junior Tom Pyzytarski outjumps senior Ray Meissner during the finals.

WHAT THE ... Senior Bud Thoune seems perplexed at the idea of finally getting the ball during the Senior-Junior game.

FLUBBER? Dick Dana seems to have used some sort of a force to leap so high.

And This Too Will Pass
